Vulnerability Notification - HP and Dell products

Please see the notification from USCYBERCOM regarding vulnerabilities in HP and Dell products actively being exploited in the wild. Please forward within your distros as deemed appropriate for their awareness and recommended remediation actions.

The following IT components are actively being exploited in the wild due to multiple pre-auth RCE vulnerabilities. Each IT component is listed below along with recommended mitigations.

Vulnerable Component: DellEMC Unity

Recommended Mitigation: Upgrade system software to version 5.5 or later

Vulnerable Component: HP StoreOnce

Recommended Mitigation: Update to the latest available version and connect the system to a remote syslog server.

Vulnerable Component: HP DLGen9 Servers

Recommended Mitigation: Upgrade to the latest security updates and patches.

Vulnerable Component: HP Chassis c7000

Recommended Mitigation: Update to the latest available version and connect the system to a remote syslog server.